

Lesson 3: Four Tips When Surveying a Bible Study Group

To properly and effectively survey a group, keep these four tips in mind:

1. Identify the purpose of the survey and who to contact if there are questions or comments. Clarify what you will do with the results.
2. Keep it brief.
3. Use a limited number of multiple choice options that are clear and specific. Only offer viable options (e.g., don't offer daycare or snacks if you don't have someone to provide those options).
4. Note when the survey will end, follow up quickly with your pastor to discuss the responses and announce the plans after getting input.
